

scholia audio — YouTube Channel

The word scholia refers to writings that are notes or comments written in the margins of books. The audio part means that it's primarily for hearing or listening.

There are presently more than 1400 videos now on the scholia audio YouTube channel, including . . .

Psalms and organ preludes for various times in life and death
The Lutheran Confessions
Christian Consolation (a meditation for night time or on the deathbed)
An illustrated book for children (Magwort and the Master)
A variety of sermons and devotions
Plus writings by Martin Luther, Johann Gerhard, C.F.W. Walther, Alfred Edersheim, George Gerberding, Martin Moller and others

scholia McCoy — YouTube Channel

Because of the size of the first channel, a second one was created that will only have works written and narrated by me. This will include devotions, theological works, fiction books, poems, hymns, sermons, as well as stories from my childhood meant to inform and amuse. (Also posted is a 28-hour recording of One Man's Plight.)

Both channels are personal mission projects of mine, intending to get the Word straight and to get the Word out. To get more exposure, we need subscribers to the channels. So, just open up YouTube and search for scholia audio and/or scholia McCoy. Your help in these mission projects would be great. Please pass this information on and let others know. Thank you.

In Christ with you,
Rev. Michael L. McCoy
Assistant Pastor, Emeritus
Faith Lutheran Church
Rogue River, Oregon

scholia audio — YouTube Channel

The word scholia refers to writings that are notes or comments written in the margins of books. The audio part means that it's primarily for hearing or listening.

There are presently more than 1400 videos now on the scholia audio YouTube channel, including . . .

Psalms and organ preludes for various times in life and death
The Lutheran Confessions
Christian Consolation (a meditation for night time or on the deathbed)
An illustrated book for children (Magwort and the Master)
A variety of sermons and devotions
Plus writings by Martin Luther, Johann Gerhard, C.F.W. Walther, Alfred Edersheim, George Gerberding, Martin Moller and others

scholia McCoy — YouTube Channel

Because of the size of the first channel, a second one was created that will only have works written and narrated by me. This will include devotions, theological works, fiction books, poems, hymns, sermons, as well as stories from my childhood meant to inform and amuse. (Also posted is a 28-hour recording of One Man's Plight.)

Both channels are personal mission projects of mine, intending to get the Word straight and to get the Word out. To get more exposure, we need subscribers to the channels. So, just open up YouTube and search for scholia audio and/or scholia McCoy. Your help in these mission projects would be great. Please pass this information on and let others know. Thank you.

In Christ with you,
Rev. Michael L. McCoy
Assistant Pastor, Emeritus
Faith Lutheran Church
Rogue River, Oregon